Students Continuing on to Next Degree Level

Students who complete a degree at one level and wish to continue onto a higher degree level at the University must follow all the admissions procedures for the new degree. They must complete all degree requirements and be cleared for graduation for the first degree before being fully admitted to the second degree program if it is at a higher level. In addition, students cannot finish one degree and start the next within the same term; they must wait until the subsequent term to begin their next degree. For example, a student in an evening accelerated College of Business bachelors program who finishes during the fall term (whether in September, November, or December) cannot start the MBA program until the spring term (January or February).
